Few Abolitionists In Illinois.

In Illinois at the time we speak of (March, 1837) an abolitionist was rarely seen and scarcely ever heard of. In many parts of the state such a person would have been treated as a criminal. It is true there were a few Covenanters, with whom hatred of slavery in any form and wherever found was an essential part of their religion. Up to 1824 they had steadily refused to vote or in any other way to acknowledge the state government, regarding it as "an heathen and unchristianized institution" because the constitution failed to recognize "Jesus Christ as the head of the government and the Holy Scriptures as the only rule of faith and practice." It was only when it was proposed to introduce slavery into Illinois by an alteration of that "heathen" constitution that the Covenanters consented to take part in public affairs. The movement which drew them out proved to be a long and unusually bitter campaign, lasting full eighteen months and ending in the fall of 1824 with a popular majority of several thousand against calling a convention for the purpose of making Illinois a slave state. Many of the antislavery leaders in this contest, conspicuous among whom was Governor Coles, were gentlemen from slave states who had emancipated their slaves before removal and were opposed to slavery not upon religious or moral grounds, but because they believed it would be a material injury to the new country. Practically no other view of the question was discussed, and a person who should have undertaken to discuss it from the "man and brother" standpoint of more modern times would have been set down as a lunatic. A clear majority of the people were against the introduction of slavery into their own state, but that majority were fully agreed with their brethren of the minority that those who went about to interfere with slavery in the most distant manner in the places where it already existed were deserving of the severest punishment as the common enemies of society. It was in those days a mortal offense to call a man an abolitionist, for abolitionist was synonymous with thief. Between a band of men who stole horses and a band of men who stole negroes the popular mind made small distinctions in the degrees of guilt. They were regarded as robbers, disturbers of the peace, the instigators of arson, murder, poisoning, rape, and in addition to all this traitors to the government under which they lived and enemies to the Union which gave us as a people liberty and strength. In testimony of these sentiments Illinois enacted a "black code" of most oppressive and cruel severity—a code that would have

The Modesty of Women

Naturally makes them shrink from the delicate questions, the obnoxious examinations, and unpleasant local treatments, which some physicians consider essential in the treatment of diseases of women. Yet, if help can be had, it is better to submit to this ordeal than let the disease grow and spread. The trouble is that so often the woman undergoes all the annoyance and shame for nothing. Thousands of women who have been cured by Dr. R. V. Pierce's Favorite Prescription write in appreciation of the cure which dispels all the examinations and local treatments. There is no other medicine so sure and safe for delicate women as "Favorite Prescription." It cures debilitating drains, irregularity and female weakness. It always helps. It almost always cures. It is strictly non-alcoholic, non-secret, all its ingredients being printed on its bottle-wrapper; contains no deleterious or habit-forming drugs, and every active medicinal root entering into its composition has the full endorsement of those most eminent in the several schools of medical practice. Some of these numerous and strongest of professional endorsements of its ingredients, will be found in a pamphlet wrapped around the bottle, also in a booklet mailed free on request, by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y. These professional endorsements should have far more weight than any amount of the ordinary lay, or non-professional testimonials.

The most intelligent women now-a-days insist on knowing what they take as medicine instead of opening their mouths like a lot of young birds and gulping down whatever is offered them. "Favorite Prescription" is of known composition. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

THE AX'S GOOD WORK

Legislature Has Created a New Record For Killing Unimportant Bills.

BUSINESS-LIKE METHODS PREVAIL

It is Now Apparent That the Session Will Be Noted More for the Number of Bills Killed Than Those Passed—A Summary of the Good Work That Has Been Accomplished Toward Re-deeming Platform Pledges.

[Special Correspondence.]

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 13.—The situation here, so far as the legislature is concerned, has not changed materially during the past week. Both branches have been disposing of a great deal of business that does not appear much on the surface of things, yet a lot of good work is being accomplished. It seems now that the session will be noted more for the number of bills that it has killed than the number passed. The house especially has developed a knack of killing inoperative laws before going into lengthy discussion of them. Its record in this respect has not been surpassed by any of its predecessors. The senate has permitted many bills to live until third reading and has then killed them after everyone had had a chance to thoroughly digest them.

In a nutshell the legislature has accomplished the following towards redeeming the pledges made by the Republicans in the last campaign:

As to private banking—The senate has passed the Ganiard bill providing for strict state supervision of private banks. The bill is now well on its way towards passage by the house.

As to two-cent fares—The house has reported favorably the Bland two-cent fare bill which was passed in the senate several days ago. It will be enacted by the house before the end of another week.

As to primary election reform—The senate has the substitute Roemer bill providing for county and city primaries up to third reading. Practically the same measure has been reported favorably in the house. Both branches will pass it within a short time.

As to insurance legislation—The state administration bill, providing for the creation of a department of insurance, to have supervision over the life insurance companies, has reported favorably in the senate and house and will be considered as a special order of business Thursday afternoon.

As to public depositories—The bills on this subject have been referred to a special committee made up of a number of members of the house and senate who are about ready to present a bill that will be put through by the Republicans.

The foregoing summary indicates very plainly that a great deal is being accomplished towards obtaining the enactment of the great reforms that were advocated by the Republican party in the last campaign. It does not show, however, the enormous obstacles that have been thrown in the way of this class of legislation and the great difficulties that are yet to be overcome. The Democratic members are again proving that they are representatives of a party of opposition and antagonism to every good thing that the Republicans propose.

In the house the Democrats, by reason of their large number and good organization, have been able to make no end of trouble and to retard the progress of the remedial legislation that has been proposed. In view of the fact that their party is also pledged to the enactment of the vital reforms that the people are demanding, it might naturally be supposed that they would join hands in putting through anything that would have a tendency to better the conditions over which there has been such widespread complaint.

Review of their course during the session shows very plainly that the people need not look to them for the desired reforms. Several weeks before the legislature was convened the Democratic members held a secret caucus at the Grand hotel at which they discussed all of the measures in which they were interested and to which their party was pledged.

It was said at that time the Democrats had manifested a great deal of enthusiasm over their reform program, and that they would put their shoulders to the wheel during the session and attempt to obtain the passage of such laws as their party was pledged to. They tried then to keep their proceedings secret and the reason for it is now apparent in their course, as it looks to everyone as if they had merely arranged to introduce a few bills to deceive their constituents and then to oppose every one of them and to attempt to force Republicans to assume the responsibility for the defeat of any or all of the proposed reforms.

As evidence of the feeling that exists among the Democratic leaders in the house, your correspondent was informed privately today by one of them that the only reform that will be enacted by this session will be the two-cent fare bill. He did not go into details as to what the Democrats proposed to do, but he said enough to show that it is their plan to prevent, if possible, the enactment of the bills for public depositories, insurance reform, honest primary election and the state supervision of private banks.

Owing to the tremendous fight that the special interests are making against some of these bills, it would not be surprising if some of them should be defeated if the Democrats line up solidly against them, as they would only need the co-operation of four or five disgruntled Republicans to carry out their plans.

It is very likely, however, that the house Republicans will caucus on these measures as soon as they are in shape and that they will decide then as to what shall be done. If any of the Republicans then refuse to line up for the bills they will have to bolt the action of the caucus, which will put them in a bad light with their own constituents, who are demanding the enactment of the legislation for which nearly every Republican member is working. If any of it is defeated it will be due entirely to the efforts of the Democrats and a few disgruntled members of the Republican party, who, for some personal reason, may refuse to carry out the promises made during the campaign.

The Ganiard bill for state supervision of private banks is one of the best measures of the kind that was ever presented in Indiana. There is every reason to believe that it will be adopted by the house in practically the same form as it passed the senate. Senator Ganiard, who has been working untiringly for four years to obtain some effective legislation upon this subject, says that he is very well pleased with what the senate has done.

He is now at work among the members of the house, explaining the measure to them and urging its passage. It is probable that it will be one of the first things on which Republican members of the house will hold a caucus. The bill gives the auditor of state authority to make a thorough examination of the private banks once a year. There are also several other important amendments in it to the present law, and those who are familiar with it are quite sure that it will place the private banks on such foundation that failures among them will be very infrequent.

The house and senate have passed a bill that has also been signed by the governor that makes further provision for the protection of the interests of depositors. It provides that any officer or clerk of a bank who shall receive deposits after he knows the institution is insolvent shall be deemed guilty of embezzlement and shall be subject to heavy fine and imprisonment.

This is a Republican measure, and will be a powerful weapon in the hands of the state in prosecuting bankers who take money when they know that their institutions are insolvent. It will correct a condition that has existed in the state for many years, and which has resulted in the loss of thousands of dollars to depositors.

Big Blaze at Pine Bluff.

Pine Bluff, Ark., Feb. 14.—One hundred and fifty dwelling houses, the Third Avenue hotel and the Riverside Methodist church were destroyed and one life was lost as a result of a fire yesterday afternoon which raged for three hours and baffled every effort of the local fire department. The fire originated at the corner of Florida and Third streets and, spreading eastward, burnt its way through nine squares. The loss is estimated at $150,000, the buildings destroyed being small residences.

A SERIOUS HITCH

There Is a Strong Possibility of a Mistrial In the Thaw Case.

ILLNESS OF JUROR'S WIFE

Delay of Half Day Was Taken That Sorrowing Juror Might Visit Dying Wife's Bedside.

The Patient Is Sorely Stricken With Double Pneumonia and the Possibilities Are Grave.

New York, Feb. 14.—The Thaw trial Wednesday was limited to an afternoon session of less than two hours' duration, the morning sitting of court having been abandoned because of illness of the wife of one of the jurors, Joseph B. Bolton, No. 11. Mr. Bolton was allowed to visit his home in company with two other jurors and two court officers. He found his wife suffering from double pneumonia, and two physicians certified to District Attorney Jerome that her condition was very serious. Bolton returned to the jury panel in time for the afternoon session, which began at 2:10 p. m., and adjourned at 4:05 o'clock. There was a stipulation of counsel by which the juror might again visit his home, accompanied by bailiffs, last night. If Mrs. Bolton's condition should continue so critical that her husband cannot be expected to give proper consideration to his duties as a juror, there may be an indefinite postponement, all the other jurors meanwhile remaining locked up, or possibly a mistrial.

Dr. Britton D. Evans, superintendent of the state hospital for the insane at Morris Plains, N. J., was the only witness of the afternoon. He concluded his direct examination and District Attorney Jerome reserved the right to cross-question the expert at a later stage of the trial.

Dr. John T. Deemar of Kittanning, Pa., was recalled to the stand just before adjournment and asked to state what he knew of the mental condition of John Ross, a first cousin of Harry Thaw. Mr. Jerome objected to the question on the ground that the relationship was too remote to permit the drawing of deductions as to hereditary insanity. Both question and witness were withdrawn temporarily.

Dr. Evans detailed the results of his various examinations and physical tests in his visits to the defendant following the tragedy. He declared that there was a depression in the back of Thaw's head of a most unusual character. "I am unable to state its significance," declared the witness, "for the reason that I never saw anything like it before."

Dr. Evans also stated that Thaw's pulse action was the most extraordinary he had ever encountered. The pulse would change beats four times within one minute, the variance being from twelve to twenty-four beats. The pulse indicated, he said, that the sympathetic nervous system was seriously at fault. Dr. Evans declared finally that he found no traces of drug habits nor any of the tremors characteristic of excessive indulgence in intoxicants.

Dr. Evans took occasion to say that he felt it was extremely unfair to him as a physician to require him to separate his physical examination or the defendant from the questions and answers as to his mental process. He was interrupted by both Mr. Jerome and Mr. Delmas, and Justice Fitzgerald said: "Will you kindly confine yourself to answering questions and not giving expressions of opinion. There is some limitation even to the province of an expert."

As the result of a conference between counsel just before the early adjournment was ordered, Mr. Jerome announced that Thaw's attorneys had turned the will of the defendant over to him for examination before it should again be formally offered in evidence. Mr. Jerome said he might or might not offer further objection to the "voluminous document." He did not wish to take up the time by reading it over in court, so counsel had agreed that it might be examined at the district attorney's office. Counsel also agreed that Mr. Jerome should have the privilege of talking freely with Dr. Deemar and with Dr. Bingham, the Thaw family physician, about certain testimony they have to offer. Mr. Jerome said if he knew the nature of this testimony he might not have to occupy so much of the court's time and crowd the record with technical objections.

SIGNED "BLIND TIGER" BILL

Governor Affixes His Signature to This Important Measure.

Indianapolis, Ind., February 14.—Governor Hanly has signed the "blind tiger" bill which was passed by the legislature this week. As there was an emergency clause to this bill, it at once becomes a law. Other bills signed by the governor are as follows: The "full crew" bill, providing that on freight trains of fifty cars or more there shall be six employees; under fifty cars, five employees, and on engines running "light," four; concerning the incorporation of Young Men's Christian associations; appropriating $12,000 for rebuilding the laundry department of the southern hospital for the insane at Evansville; legalizing the incorporation of the town of Gary, Lake county; legalizing the ordinances and acts of the Brookville council; incorporating the trustees of Moores Hill college; providing that trained nurses, in order to secure a license, must furnish satisfactory evidence that he or she is twenty-one years old, of good moral character, has received the equivalent of a common school education and has been graduated from a training school for nurses having a systematic course of two years; fixing the time of holding court in the Scott-Jackson judicial circuit.

Representative Thomas Brolley of North Vernon, one of the greatest baseball "fans" in southern Indiana, has succeeded in inducing a majority of the members of the house to vote in favor of his bill legalizing Sunday games that are played in the afternoon and at least 1,000 feet from a place of worship. Six of the nine members of the criminal code committee reported the bill for passage. Three were against it, but their report was tabled by a vote of 49 to 32. The indications are that the bill will pass the house, but Governor Hanly will veto it if it reaches his desk.

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 14, 1907.

THE Governor has signed the Honan full train crew bill and the same is now a law.

THERE are a host of people around over the state who believe that professional base on Sunday would be a desecration of the Sabbath, therefore they are of the opinion that the "Sunday base ball bill" should not become a law.

IF all reports are true Sweeney and Quinn can afford to resign as officers of the State Life. The evidence goes to show that they have been taking care of themselves beautifully for several years.

THE legislature has some of its most important work yet to do. It is time for the members to get together on these subjects. Not their personal opinions but the will of the people should decide their actions.

THE decision of Judge Samuel R. Artman, of Lebanon, that the state has no constitutional right to legalize the saloon is regarded as revolutionary in some quarters. He holds in a case venue from Marion county that the sale of intoxicating liquors at retail for beverage purposes can not be legally licensed. He says that whatever contravenes the law for self-preservation by being destructive of the good order, the safety, the peace, the health, the morals, or the welfare of the people is unlawful. He holds that what is wrong can not be lawful; whatever is right is legitimate and lawful. His decision, whether sustained in law or not will attract wide attention and will provoke much discussion and argument. An appeal will at once be taken from Judge Artman's decision.

THE "blind tiger" bill is now a law and in force since it has an emergency clause attached. In this the temperance forces have made a decided gain. This new law puts further restrictions on the sale of liquors and makes the detection of illegal sales an easier matter. The law makes it a misdemeanor for any person to run or operate a place where liquor is sold without a state license, or for any one to be found in possession of liquors for such purpose. The penalty is a fine of $50 to $100 with imprisonment from 30 days to six months. The law does not apply to wholesalers who sell in quantities not less than five gallons. The druggists are prohibited from selling intoxicants of any kind except on prescription of a physician and such a prescription can be used but once. The law is interpreted to prohibit the club bar, such as have been run under a government license only. Common carriers, draymen etc. shall not handle liquor under fictitious names. The penalties for violation of any of the provisions are quite severe. This law will put an end to the blind tigers if enforced and will put some so called drugstores and groceries in a number of places over the state out of the retail liquor business. It will in no way affect the business of a drugstore that has been living up to the law in the past. If they have been retailing liquor contrary to law they will act wisely to quit it since this new law is in force.

The room is very beautifully decorated with red hearts and the class colors—black and orange. According to their plans, as stated to our reporter today, they are to have a spread after school this evening at which the teachers of the high school will be entertained. The Seniors have the habit now of displaying flags and colors, since their recent clash with the Juniors and it is said that the walls of their room were beautifully decorated with American flags on Lincoln's birthday.

POET-SCOUT.

Gives Interesting Lecture At Society Hall Last Evening.

For more than two hours Capt. Jack Crawford, the Poet-Scout, entertained an audience last evening at Society Hall. He came as the fourth number in the Popular Lecture Course. As an illustration of his success in entertaining his audience, one person who was present last evening was mad this morning because she said "I never do laugh at an entertainment or show of any kind but always do my laughing next day. Capt. Crawford got me started at the beginning last evening and I laughed till the entertainment was over." Many were heard to say last evening and today that the entertainment was the best of the season this far.

Capt. Crawford had just come from a town about one third as large as Seymour where he had twice as large an audience and was surprised at having such a small audience as he had here. Nevertheless he proceeded to give the audience their money's worth. Notwithstanding the reports that have been put into circulation, perhaps by his enemies, that Capt. Jack is a drinking man, he strikes some telling blows in behalf of the temperance cause and in conversation with a representative of the REPUBLICAN this morning he expressed very great delight at the decision rendered by Judge Artman, of Lebanon, Ind., yesterday to the effect that no license could be legally granted for the sale of intoxicating drinks.

Died In Church.

James W. Shelton, who resided in Hamilton township in this county years ago, died suddenly December 30, 1906, at Maryville, Missouri. A clipping received recently by W. O. Shepard, of this city, gives an account of his death. This paper says:

"James W. Shelton, one of Nodaway County's best known citizens, dropped dead in the First Methodist church of Maryville just before the opening of the morning services, Sunday, Dec. 30, 1906. He had been enjoying unusually good health and had been up town only Saturday morning his many friends. Sunday morning accompanied by his wife he reached the church a few minutes before services began. While sitting in church he chatted with L. W. Nixon in his usual manner. Presently his wife observed that his eyes were closed and that he was pale. At once she found that he was afflicted. He was carried to a physician's office but it was found that he had expired. Apoplexy was the cause. Mr. Shelton was born in Kentucky in 1838. Moved with his parents to Jackson county, Indiana, when he was a boy. Moved to Nodaway county in 1869 and lived on a farm until 1900 when he moved to Maryville. He was married to Elizabeth Booth, of Jackson county, in 1865. To them were born six children. Mrs. F. P. JACK AND QUEEN

The Little York Bloodhounds Called To Trail Robber In Ripley County.

A partially successful attempt to rob the Napoleon Stat Bank was made at Napoleon, a little town in the northern part of Ripley County, Wednesday morning about three o'clock, and the Little York bloodhounds, which were hardly at home yet from the trail at Freetown were ordered at once. They reached Seymour too late yesterday to catch any morning train east and as No. 2 does not stop at Osgood they were compelled to wait for No. 8 which leaves here shortly after 4:30. They reached Osgood about dark, or perhaps a little later, and from there were driven seven miles to Napoleon, reaching there some time before ten o'clock last night. They were put to work about ten o'clock. By eleven it seemed evident that, although the trail was then about twenty hours old, the dogs would be able to give them a point or two. The dogs were worked till two o'clock this morning and this, together with the fact that the owners of the dogs who, by the way, are very clever fellows, refused to talk for publication is evident that some evidence, which it is thought may be used in landing the guilty party or parties, must have been secured.

The attempted robbery was a very bold one. The cashier, Milton B. Boerner, was taken from his bed about midnight and forced to go to the bank and open the door. He was forced to try to unlock the vault but it is a time lock and it was impossible for him to open it. He was beaten almost into insensibility bound and gagged and left in the bank where he was found perhaps about daylight in a semi-conscious condition. The robber remained with him about three hours before he gave up. It is said that about $30 was secured that had not been locked in the vault. The general supposition is that it was home talent and much interest is being taken in the case. There are still a few suspicious characters in Ripley county notwithstanding the cleaning up that took place there a few years ago.

As the call to Freetown was the first call for these bloodhounds since they were purchased by Messrs. W. D. Erwood and Abe Cravens about six weeks ago and this second call came immediately following, they have come to think that handling bloodhounds is a strenuous business. This is three nights in succession that they have had but little sleep and lots of work. They were accompanied on this trip by Harve Garriott also of Little York. They returned here this morning on No. 7 and left at once by way of the Pennsylvania for Little York.

HOPE ABANDONED

Survivors of Larchmont Disaster Still Number but Nineteen.

Providence, R. I., Feb. 14.—A careful compilation of figures in this city early today shows that 138 lives are known to have been lost as a result of the collision Monday night between the Joy Line steamer Larchmont and the schooner Harry Knowlton. It is known that there were not less than 157 persons on board the steamer. Of that number only nineteen survived. Seventy-one bodies have been recovered, thirty-eight of them having been identified. There are still 100 passengers who are either missing or unidentified.

Terrible tales of suffering are narrated by some of the survivors, and one of the passengers asserted that in that awful hour of peril helpless women were thrust aside by men who cared only for their own safety. The charge of cowardice was made by Fred Hergesell, an eighteen-year-old lad of Brooklyn, N. Y. He said that not only were women left to their fate, but that Captain McVey left the sinking ship in the very first lifeboat; that some of the ship's employees filled the boats to the exclusion of the passengers, and that at least one boat was without oars when it was put over the side.

President Dunbaugh has issued a statement in which he said: "The schooner was responsible for the collision. The officers and crew of the Larchmont are not to blame in any way. In view of the horrible condition which prevailed immediately after the accident I am satisfied that the men did all in their power to meet the situation as conscientious and honorable men. It appeared from my investigation that the schooner luffed right into the Larchmont and caused the accident which resulted in such great loss of life. The fact that the steamer sank so soon after the crash; the fact that so many were unable to reach the boats even after they were put out, is to my mind sufficient proof that the crew acted bravely and did all in its power to aid the passengers who were able to reach the deck."

MINERS THREATEN TROUBLE

Strike at Pomeroy, O., May Lead to Bloodshed.

Pomeroy, O., Feb. 14.—There was an excited miners' demonstration here today. Five hundred union miners formed in line near the mouth of the mine, where fifty strike-breakers are at work and followed them a mile to the main part of town. Captain Fred Ebersbach and Marshal Arnold acted as a bodyguard for the strike-breakers, and no doubt their presence prevented serious trouble. The strike-breakers attempted to stop a passing trolley car and escape in that way, but the strikers forced the men to go on. The trouble broke out afresh because of the importation of twenty colored strike-breakers from Columbus. If matters are not adjusted in a few days and strike-breakers continue to be imported, it is freely predicted that bloodshed will follow.

Hand Injured at Factory.

Roll Westmeir, son of Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Westmeir of S. Carter street, was quite seriously injured in an accident at the Greeman Furniture factory Tuesday. He was working with a machine which, it is said, makes about five thousand revolutions a minute, when he lost control of the stick of wood which he was holding in his hand and a splinter, or perhaps two splinters were forced into the fore part of his thumb from the end back about to the first joint. The injury was quite painful and will probably lay Mr. Westmeir off for two or three weeks. Dr. Kamman dressed the wound and no serious complications are expected.

He reached New Orleans on Sunday morning, that being the last day he could reach that place and win the wager. He walked only during daylight hours, using cedar shoes, four feet five inches long, five inches broad and seven inches deep. His wife rowed beside him all the way. In a gasoline boat preceding Oldrieve were Capt. J. W. Weatherington, of Dallas, Tex., who backed the water-walker, and Arthur Jones, representing Edward Williams, of Boston, who laid the wager.

STRAY GUN

Search Still Being Made to Find Owner of Gun Left By Night Prowler.

The shot gun that was left behind may yet be the means of finding out who created the disturbance at the home of Mrs. Cochran in the Free-town neighborhood Monday evening. Mrs. Cochran draws a pension and had just received her check only a few days before and it is thought that the fellow had knowledge of this fact and was bent on robbery. Three months ago when the widow drew her pension a man appeared at the house one night in a similar manner.

The man put in his appearance Monday evening between eight and nine o'clock and it was some time after noon Tuesday before the blood hounds reached there. They had but a very poor chance to do anything as much of the ground had been pretty well tracked over and the trail was probably more than sixteen hours old. It is said that when the man was at the house he went up and kicked on the door and that the print of his toes still shows there. The women left the house by the back way and aroused the neighbors, some of whom arrived in time to see the fellow leave the premises. The blood hounds struck a trail which they followed for some distance but as they did not go in the direction that the prowler was seen to leave, it is supposed that they trailed back the way he came. It is said that Sheriff Ed Richards went over from Brownstown and assisted in making the investigation. The dogs were brought back to Seymour Tuesday night shortly after eight o'clock and left for Crothersville on the 9:06 train with their owners.

Turned Buggy Over.

When undertaker Will Hustedt and George Binder, of this city, were driving in Hamilton township last Saturday evening, the horse which they were driving became frightened and made a quick turn in the road. The buggy was turned over and both gentlemen were thrown out. Mr. Binder was thrown down a bank into a ditch and received some painful injuries while Mr. Hustedt escaped unhurt. Mr. Binder said he had been dumped off railway engines a good many times but never got hurt as bad as he did Saturday. They had quite an exciting experience and the buggy was so broken up that they were compelled to borrow another buggy to get back to Seymour.

Dr. Taylor's Lecture.

The third and last lecture of the series given at the Methodist church on scientific temperance by Dr. Taylor was given last night. His subject was "God's message in Science to Thinking Men." Like his preceding lectures this one was designed to make men who heard it think seriously on a great question. What he has to say is based on information gathered by scientific investigation. He does not appeal to sentiment but to reason. He places undisputed facts before his hearers and asks them to think them over and decide for themselves what their position on the temperance question should be. These lectures will certainly do good here and wherever they are delivered.

Annual White Sale BEGINS MONDAY, FEB. 11

Embroideries, Laces, Muslin Underwear, White Goods, Muslin, Sheetings

THE most important event of the year—and one for which we prepare carefully and well—has its beginning Monday. Rarely, if ever, have conditions been so favorable to the consumer as those under which the sale will be conducted. Of chief importance, the very low prices—right in the face of a rising market, too, sounds like a paradox, and a money losing one at that, but it is merely an illustration of this store's foresightedness in the placing of orders far ahead at lower prices in the anticipation of such a rise in the price of cotton as has occurred—and still occurring by leaps and bounds. But it is only a question of time when we too shall have to pay more, so you'd best take advantage of this sale.

Walker's Shortage Grows.

New Britain, Conn., Feb. 14.—More than half a million dollars' worth of securities were taken from the vaults of the Savings Bank of New Britain by the missing treasurer, William F. Walker, according to a statement issued by the board of directors of the institution, following the examination of the collateral in the bank by state bank commissioners. There is left a surplus of about $143,000 over and above the amount due to depositors, the actual shortage being $565,000.

Schuyler Hamilton, a great grandson of Alexander Hamilton and son of Major General Schuyler Hamilton of civil and Mexican war fame, is dead at Norwalk, Conn.

The price of wheat for May delivery on the Chicago market declined sharply because of general selling induced by lower prices at Liverpool and by the prospect of a more liberal movement in the Northwest.

Neglected Colds Threaten Life.

"Don't trifle with a cold" is good advice for prudent men and women. It may be vital in the case of a child. Proper food, good ventilation and dry warm clothing are the proper safeguards against colds. If they are maintained through the changeable weather of autumn, winter and spring, the chances of a surprise from ordinary colds will be slight.

But the ordinary light cold will become severe if neglected and a well established ripe cold is to the germ of diphtheria what honey is to the bee. The greatest menace to child life at this season of the year is the neglected cold. Whether it is a child or adult, the cold slight or severe, the very best treatment that can be adopted is to give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is safe and sure. The great popularity and immense sale of his preparation has been attained by its remarkable cures of this ailment. A cold never results in pneumonia when it is given. For sale by C. W. Milhous.

HEARING THE EVIDENCE

Contempt of the Supreme Court is the Charge in This Case.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Feb. 14.—Taking of evidence in the cases of Sheriff J. F. Shipp of this county, a number of his deputies and ten alleged members of the mob, for contempt of the supreme court of the United States, is in progress before Special Commissioner J. D. Maher, who is assistant clerk of the supreme court. The government is represented by Assistant Attorney General E. T. Sanford and the sheriff and his deputies by Robert Pritchard, while various lawyers represent the other defendants.

L. G. Walker, editor-in-chief of the Chattanooga Times; M. B. Ochs, managing editor of the same paper and J. G. Rice, editor of the News, were examined as to publications of certain official orders of the supreme court. A. W. Brazleton, formerly private secretary to United States Judge C. D. Clark, testified as to the delivery of official orders of the court and the manager of a local telegraph company testified as to the receipt of important messages bearing on the case. It is expected that fully two weeks will be required to hear all the evidence in the case. The government has adopted the policy of summoning the witnesses only as they are needed so that no idea can be secured of the number to be introduced, though it is said to be fifty.

INSURANCE RELIEF

The State Senate Now Prepared to Push the Farber-Babcock Insurance Bill.

BLOW AT THE GOVERNOR

Majority of Senators Declare That Proposed New Department Shall Be Attached to Auditors Office.

The Governor Desires That He Shall Be Given Opportunity to Name the New Man.

Indianapolis, Feb. 14.—It was the understanding today that the Farber-Babcock insurance regulation bill would be considered in the senate before adjournment for the day. The senate sidestepped on it yesterday afternoon. The coteries of senators friendly to Governor Hanly was said to be playing for delay in hope of being able to convince the majority that he should be permitted to appoint the commissioner, but it looks as if they have been defeated. Many Republican senators said today that the bill is in practically the same form as recommended by the governor except that he is deprived of the power to appoint the insurance commissioner.

The action of the Republican senators has caused no end of comment. The Republican members declare, however, that while the party was pledged to insurance reform, it was not pledged to pass any particular bill on the subject.

The senate has decided to reconsider its vote in favor of a bill for a constitutional convention. Resolutions have been introduced in the house and senate urging the legislature to petition congress to amend the constitution so as to provide for direct election of United States senators.

Representative Brown has introduced a bill creating the office of state commissioner of liquor and gambling laws, whose duty shall be to see that the liquor and gambling laws are enforced. Mr. Brown would have the commissioner appointed by the governor and would pay him $1,200 annually as salary. He would be expected to travel from one end of the state to the other and to pounce down on unsuspecting violators of the law and have them punished.

Representative Slomp introduced a bill for appointment of a commission to codify all the laws of the state. A similar measure was introduced in the senate by Senator Cox. Representative Fitch presented a bill changing the method of voting on constitutional amendments so that the amendment may be under the head of the regular party tickets.

Representative Baker offered a bill to place livestock insurance companies under the jurisdiction of the secretary of state. Representative Bowls presented a measure requiring druggists to sell cocaine, morphine and opium only on prescriptions. Representative Hay introduced a bill to compel railroad companies to carry medical supplies on all trains for use during wrecks. Representative Brown introduced a bill to prohibit a police judge from practicing law during his term.

The house by an almost unanimous vote struck out the enacting clause of a bill which would have made impossible the settlement of a damage suit out of court without the consent of the attorney for the plaintiff. It was regarded as one of the most vicious bills introduced this session.

The senate sought to put a crimp in the operations of the Standard Oil company in Indiana by passing Senator Cavin's bill prohibiting discrimination in prices paid for like grades of oil. Senator Cavin said that the Standard is able to prevent the development of an oil field by keeping down the prices. Senator Slack offered an amendment providing for a jail sentence of not to exceed one year in addition to a fine of $1,000 as a penalty for violating the law. "It is useless to fine the Standard Oil officers," said Senator Slack, "but I think we should give them a jail sentence occasionally if the court finds them guilty."

After a long argument the senate passed Senator Farber's bill giving the state board of medical registration and examination authority to revoke the license of any physician who resorts to fraudulent advertising to get business.

Tried to Escape and Was Shot.

Marion, O., Feb. 14.—Benjamin Runkle, a former Salvation Army captain, was shot and perhaps fatally wounded by Marshal C. McClain of Morral. Runkle had written to his wife, who is nursing a relative near Morral, threatening to kill her, it is said, if she did not come here and live with him. He was arrested and fined $100 and sentenced to the Columbus workhouse for a month. While the marshal was taking him to the village prison he made a dash for liberty and was shot.

Shot His Father-in-Law.

Bloomington, Ind., Feb. 14.—Arthur Young, one of the most prominent and wealthy farmers of Monroe county, was shot through the heart and killed by his son-in-law, Preston Lang, a young man twenty-one years old. The tragedy occurred at the Lang home, four miles east of this city, and was the outgrowth of long-continued ill-feeling between the two. Lang gave himself up.

When your Watch Stops

Questioning Mr. Morgan.

Rome, Feb. 14.—The statement that J. Pierpont Morgan has presented five fragments from the Trojan forum to the Metropolitan Museum of New York has aroused much interest here, and people are speaking of the famous stolen Ascoli vase which was purchased by Mr. Morgan in 1903, but subsequently returned by him to the government. The Tribune is urging the authorities to investigate the matter of the Trojan fragments.

Roosevelt as Peacemaker.

Washington, Feb. 14.—Cable dispatches have been received by the president directly from the presidents of Nicaragua and Honduras in response to his urgent appeals to desist from hostile measures. Though these have not been made public, it is stated that their tenor is such as to encourage the belief that a peaceful settlement is in sight.

Nothing will relieve indigestion that is not a through digestant. Kodol digests what you eat and allows the stomach to rest—recuperate—grow again. Kodol is a solution of digestive acids and as nearly as possible approximates the digestive juices that are found in the stomach. Kodol takes the work of digestion off the digestive organs, and while performing this work itself does greatly assist the stomach to a thorough rest. In addition the ingredients of Kodol are such as to make it a corrective of the highest efficiency and by its action the stomach is restored to its normal activity and power. Kodol is manufactured in strict conformity with the National Pure Food and Drug Law. Sold by all Druggists.

Arrest of Anarchists.

Berlin, Feb. 14.—The police have arrested three anarchists, a native of Holland, a Belgian and a German, the latter being a former editor of a revolutionary journal. The men were taken into custody at the German's lodgings, where 15,000 copies of a violently worded leaflet, "The Soldier's Breviary," were found. The leaflets were intended for distribution in the army. The Prussian arms were on the cover with the inscription, "Published by the Prussian War Ministry."

A liquid cold relief with a laxative principle which drives out the cold through a copious action of the bowels and a healing principle which lingers in the throat and stops the cough, that is Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup. Safe and sure in its action; pleasant to take; and conforms to National Pure Food and Drug Law. Contains no opiates. Sold by all Druggists.

THE RIGHT TO APPEAL

Important Modification of Existing Law Made by Senate.

Washington, Feb. 14.—The senate passed the bill giving the government the right to appeal to the supreme court for a construction of the constitutionality of any law enacted in a criminal case. The subject of Columbia University's case was taken up early this session. The bill was passed by a vote of 74 to 16.

The senate broke all records by passing bills at the rate of fifteen a minute for one hour and six minutes. The bills were pension bills on the calendar, to which there were no objections. The number passed was 991.

A message from President Roosevelt urging consideration of legislation affecting the public lands was received and read in both houses. The first night session of the senate during the present session was held to consider private pension bills.

Headway was made by the house in its consideration of the naval appropriation bill, and more than half the bill perfected.

CONGRESS TO SAY

Adjustment of Japanese School Question Now Rests With That Body.

TO EXCLUDE COOLIE LABOR

If an Amendment of This Sort Is Tacked to Immigration Bill San Francisco Will Relent.

The School Question Will Then Be Given Secondary Consideration by Californians.

Washington, Feb. 14.—The Japanese school controversy is settled insofar as President Roosevelt, Mayor Schmitz and the members of the San Francisco school board are concerned. An amicable adjustment of the question now rests with congress. If the amendment to the immigration bill proposed by Secretary Root, excluding foreigners who use their passports to secure admission to the United States "to the detriment of labor conditions in this country," is accepted by the senate and house and the immigration bill is passed at this session of congress, the San Francisco board of education will rescind its order establishing the Oriental schools unless the Japanese government agrees to a proposition for separate schools which will provide equal facilities for the Japanese children.

Mayor Schmitz and his associates had a conference with the president late yesterday afternoon and assured Mr. Roosevelt that the amendment to the immigration bill was entirely satisfactory to them. Secretary Root participated in the conference and made a report on his negotiations with the Republican leaders in congress and the Japanese ambassador.

While Mayor Schmitz and the members of the school board are still hopeful that Viscount Aoki, the Japanese ambassador, will agree to separate schools in California, they stand willing to rescind the order establishing the Oriental schools and again admit Japanese children to the white schools. Mayor Schmitz pointed out to President Roosevelt and Secretary Root the advantages that will be gained by the Japanese children if the Oriental schools are maintained and expressed a willingness to give the Japanese equal educational facilities to those given to the white children of San Francisco. If the Japanese government will agree to this proposition, the school board will establish a sufficient number of Oriental schools to accommodate the Japanese and will give the children individual instruction. Mayor Schmitz says that the Japanese make faster progress in the Oriental schools than they do in the white schools, and that in the mixed schools the Japanese only retard the progress of the white children.

Another conference will be held at the White House Friday, and in the meantime President Roosevelt hopes to be able to give Mayor Schmitz and his associates assurance that the immigration bill including the exclusion amendment will be passed at this session of congress. The only thing that will prevent an amicable settlement of the whole question on Friday will be unwillingness of congress to pass the immigration bill. This it can be stated on the highest official authority, is now the only possible hitch that can be encountered in the negotiations.

THEY WANT TO VOTE

English Women Bombard Parliament With Their Prayers.

London, Feb. 14.—The woman suffragists, whose leaders have sworn not to desist in their violent agitation until parliament has granted their demands, appear likely to give the authorities considerable trouble. Yesterday they made a more determined and better organized demonstration than ever before, in the course of which over sixty women were arrested. It was nearly midnight before they were all bailed out.

From an early hour in the afternoon until 10 o'clock at night a large force of police had their hands full in defending the precincts of parliament from suffragist raids. Every entrance to the house of commons was guarded by detachments of policemen, while other officers of the law were engaged in clearing the adjacent streets, and a body of fifty constables was kept in reserve for emergency. Miss Annie Kenny, one of the leaders, who has been imprisoned three times, declares that if woman's suffrage is not granted during this session she will march 1,000 women cotton operatives from the north, who will confront the ministers on the floor of the house of commons.

His Conscience Troubled Him.

South Bend, Ind., Feb. 14.—Because his conscience troubled him so that he was unable to sleep, Rene Vanooteghem came all the way from Pittsburgh, Pa., gave himself up to the police and confessed to killing Swan Lind, who was found dead on Dec. 18. He told State's Attorney Talbot the entire story and asserted that he was fighting in self-defense.

It is said that the railroads of the entire country are preparing to make a general increase in freight rates.

in small cities and towns, because

1. There is not a sufficient population to support a B.O.C. school.
2. Such schools are usually conducted by persons who are not qualified, or who make it a practice to travel about and defraud their patrons.
3. There are few if any opportunities for their graduates to secure employment in such localities.
4. The THOROUGH business colleges are located in the larger cities and are conducted by persons who are qualified.
5. The graduates of business colleges in small cities or towns can not secure employment in large cities when thrown in competition with the THOROUGH graduates of high-class schools, as business men have no time to experiment with incompetents.
